Subject: FW: Clearing speech that has been given for publication as part of conference on "New U.S. Policy toward Pakistan"

PA colleagues:

The U.S. Consul-General to Perth, Australia, recently gave a speech entitled "New U.S. Policy toward Pakistan" at a Conference on "Countering Militancy in Pakistan: Domestic, Regional and International Dimensions," held at the University of Western Australia. The CG's speech kicked off the opening session of the conference, and the response to his presentation was quite positive. The conference organizers have asked if the speech can be included in the conference proceedings.

Can you please clear this speech (which has already been given) to be allowed to be final conference documents?

Deputy Special Representative for Afghanistan and Pakistan Paul Jones, and Theresa Grencik and Robert Kemp of SCA, were aware in advance that the CG was giving a speech on Pakistan, and they provided the off-the-shelf materials that were used in these remarks.

Cheers,

Dear PA (I am also sending directly to Julie Reside and have written separately to Sarah Prosser in L),

Hi - I am writing to ask your help with something. Below is a brief foreword I have written to the autobiography of [redacted] a former Taliban official now reconciled and living in Kabul but still under 1267 sanctions. Columbia University Press (the publisher) has deposited a document with Treasury saying that no entity under sanctions will benefit materially from the publication, so there is no problem on that score. But I neglected to clear the content, and now the printing date is approaching. This is definitely the last time I will make this mistake, but as an SGE I still apparently have to get this cleared even though I will be identified only by my academic affiliation. I would be grateful for your assistance if there is some way that you can expedite the process. I can still make changes.

Thanks,

Dear PA Colleagues,

Please clear on the attached article for publication by the Netherlands Helsinki Committee in a journal entitled Security and Human Rights -- it was formerly known as The Helsinki Monitor. The journal is preparing a special issue on the principles of European security.

I have been told the article will be published in English. The journal is read by those few people -- who are mainly academics, plus a sprinkling of human rights activists -- who follow the OSCE professionally.

The article would be published with a caveat.

However, before I can pass it to PA I need your chop as the RPM/OSCE guru.

The editors of a journal published in, I believe, The Netherlands by the Netherlands Helsinki Committee and called Security and Human Rights – it was formerly known as The Helsinki Monitor – are preparing a special issue on the principles of European security. They have asked me, among others, for a brief (1500 words) piece essentially addressing the question of whether Europe needs a new security arrangement – and whether the OSCE's "cooperative security" still has any relevance.

Attached you will find the article I wish to submit for your review and clearance. The deadline for my submission, they say, is December 1.

Thank you.

Colleagues: For your review, attached is an article written in his/her private capacity by State Department employee [REDACTED] Director, Office of Biological Weapons Affairs Bureau of Verification, Compliance, and Implementation. The author intends to publish the paper with a disclaimer.

PA's Office of Strategic Communications and Planning is charged with reviewing documents on subjects of official concern written by State Department employees in their private capacities. In doing so, we may consult with relevant bureaus.

Under 3 FAM 4170, there are three circumstances under which clearance on a piece written in someone's personal capacity can be denied:

1. If it contains classified information.
2. If it contains information not releasable under FOIA (e.g., protected employee information, law enforcement information, etc.)
3. If the statements in the piece "are likely to be attributed to the U.S. Government notwithstanding the employee's use of a disclaimer" and that "attribution of the employee's views to the U.S. Government is likely to impair demonstrably the foreign affairs mission of State" (for example, an A/S cannot reasonably have the presumption of writing something in his or her own personal capacity).

I am sending you the paper entitled "Iran and Libya Encyclopedia" by employee [REDACTED] (see attachment) to make sure you are aware of it, and to get your input on any of the three conditions listed above. According to the author, the article has been cleared by VCI and ISN (see message below).

It is important to keep in mind that the "clearance" we provide is in no way an endorsement or "OK" of what has been written - we are simply saying that we have reviewed the article and that it is not in violation of the FAM.

I would appreciate hearing from you no later than COB, Friday, October 9, 2009.

Lisa: I clear for PA. Since he is not identifying himself as a DOS employee, there is no need, in my opinion, to seek clearances from his bureau and from EAP. However, it would be a courtesy to share this with the latter.

Also, [REDACTED] does not explain if he has been paid for these articles; if so, he needs to secure clearance from L (Ethics).

Dear Ms. Miller,

We spoke a few weeks ago about some upcoming articles I was working on for publication. Attached please find the op-ed on Japan's upcoming election. It does not discuss any U.S. foreign policy issues.

I plan on using the following byline "[Redacted] was a 2008-2009 Council on Foreign Relations International Affairs Fellow based in Tokyo."

I look forward to hearing from you as soon as possible since the publication would like to get the article out in advance of the upcoming elections. Could you please confirm receipt of the attachment.

Dear Sir or Madam,

I was asked by AFSA to draft an article on my recent experience in Kosovo for the upcoming new edition of "Inside a U.S. Embassy: How the Foreign Service Works for America." I sent in the attached draft to editor Shawn Dorman and she would like to publish it.

I request the Department's clearance for publication. FYI, I have also sent it for clearance to Embassy Pristina and to my former boss, Fletcher Burton, at the International Civilian Office in Pristina. B6

Please let me know if there is any further action I should take to get this cleared. Thanks and best regards,

Dear Ms. Miller and PA Clearances:

Thank you for your email below. I have attached the manuscript of my book, which will be published by Johns Hopkins University Press under the title "Regime Change in the Yugoslav Successor States: Divergent Paths toward a New Europe" and I respectfully request clearance. Please note that it has lots of tracked changes that were recently inserted by my copy editor. These changes will stand, and there will be no further substantive changes to the book, only grammatical and stylistic changes. However, I wanted to get it to you as soon as possible, since after these changes are incorporated it will be close to publication time (probably January 2010).

Once again, this is based on my doctoral dissertation, which was written before I entered the Foreign Service in 2004, although it has been updated since.

I also wanted to ask you what is the proper disclaimer for my bio—is the following OK?

"[redacted] is a Foreign Service Officer with the U.S. Department of State. He has served in Albania, Kosovo, and Japan. The views expressed in this book are entirely the author's and do not reflect any official U.S. government policy."

Thank you very much in advance; and please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Dear PA Clearances:

Prior to joining the Foreign Service in 2004, I wrote a doctoral dissertation at the University of California, Berkeley. The subject matter is the Yugoslav Successor States.

The dissertation (edited and updated) will now be published by Johns Hopkins University Press.

I understand it needs to be cleared, but given its length (500 pages double spaced) I wanted to inquire about the best way to get it to you.

Thank you very much.

Hello,

My name is [REDACTED] and I recently began with the State Department as an FSO. Prior to joining State, I was an attorney in private practice. During that time, I drafted an article on universal jurisdiction that I would like to submit for publication in a law review or law journal. I was informed by Ethics Counsel that I should submit the article to this address for clearance prior to publication. As the article was drafted prior to my joining the State Department, it contains no non-public information, but I believe that it may touch upon subjects of official concern as it relates to a disputed issue in international law.

The article has not yet been submitted to law journals for their consideration. I would appreciate it if you could let me know whether I need to wait for clearance to submit the article for consideration, or whether that process can begin prior to clearance. Of course, if the article is accepted by a journal, I will inform the editors that it cannot be published until I receive clearance from the Department.

Thank you in advance for your time and assistance.

Warmest regards,

I am going to submit to NDU press to and see if they want to incorporate in their new PRISM journal on complex operations. There was a Department notice about this publication that was sent out June 5. My piece does not meet their preferred length requirements but I thought I would shot it over to them anyway.

I have not yet submitted pending your clearance.

Many thanks,

Mary,

I am a Foreign Service Officer currently serving in H. In my private capacity, I would like to submit the attached scholarly article I drafted for publication. The FAM indicates that this must be cleared by PA/PL. The article contains no classified information and has the appropriate disclaimer.

I appreciate your attention to this matter.

Best wishes,

Dear PA Clearances:

I attach my doctoral dissertation. I will be defending in June and will either deposit it at that time or deposit it after revisions, depending on the decision of the defense committee.

I am requesting clearance to deposit it. Although this will not be publicized or marketed, the deposit is nominally a publication and I would like clearance before submitting it. All of the field work was completed prior to joining the State Department and only statistical analysis and editing have continued since my joining. The material is unrelated to my work. Please let me know if you will require a second review if the changes are minor.

Please note that in the acknowledgments on page iv I have included the required text:

"The views expressed in this paper are those of the authors, and do not necessarily reflect those of the U.S. Department of State or the U.S. Government."

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

The L bureau has cleared.

Also, the FAM specifies that if an employee is assigned overseas, it is their chief of mission who is the official clearer. However we in PA do like to see what may wind up in print in US publications so we thank you for sending it to us. You will have to use the disclaimer – saying that you are a Foreign Service Officer and that the views expressed in your piece are yours alone and not necessarily those of the US government. So after you get your chief of mission to see it – you are good to go.

Best,

This is a personal piece and I am passing it to PA as required. I do not believe this is of official concern as it simply reflects my views on how this issue is being debated in the US. It has nothing to do with international treaties and all about standing up for what you believe in.

As for where I want to submit it, I figure I would shoot high first (nytimes) then if that does not work seek the Seattle Times, and then perhaps something like the Rutland Herald or something like that.

Dear Colleagues,

The enclosed article that I am preparing for publication is the write-up of some remarks I gave at a conference last October in Ottawa. The conference was addressing the 40th anniversary of the Prague Spring and the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia. The organizer, Professor Mark Stolarik from the University of Ottawa, would like to publish all of the papers and commentaries in an edited volume. The enclosed article is my contribution—the evaluation of a paper written by a Russian scholar. I'm including both my remarks for your clearance, and the Russian scholar's paper, for your added enjoyment. (My paper is the file entitled Prague Spring Conference Chapter[1].

Subject: Screenplay review

Hi Lisa,

Chuck Daris from the publication review office suggested I contact you about a screenplay that I've written about a fictional account of an American soldier in Afghanistan shortly after 9/11. I completed the screenplay last summer and would like to try and market it. I have shared it informally with friends, some with ties to the movie industry. However, I want to make sure and secure any required USG clearances.

The story line is completely fictional, based very loosely on the events that took place, notably the deployment of U.S. special forces into Afghanistan. Nothing that wasn't reported in the press or books since then.

Please let me know if there is a formal clearance process for a publication of this sort. I'd be happy to share a copy with you if needed.

Thanks

January 10, 2009 -- Advice and Referral Clinic

In 2009, as in 2008, the Department has been invited to help staff the DC Bar's Advice and Referral Clinic on three different Saturdays. If you have a few hours to spare on January 10, I invite you to sign up for the first such opportunity by replying to this email. The clinic is held at Bread for the City NW, 1525 Seventh Street, from 10 a.m. until noon. The clinic is a wonderful and manageable opportunity to provide legal advice and general information to those in need. Volunteer, and start the new year with a short pro bono commitment! Further information about the clinic is pasted at the bottom of this email.

You do not need special expertise in any area of law. The DC Bar runs a brief on-site training that same morning and has mentors and reference materials on site. You also need not be a member of the DC bar, and the DC Bar has malpractice insurance for volunteers.

As always, while L/EMP/Ethics generally has no objection to attorney participation in approved pro bono programs, such as the Advice & Referral Clinic, L attorneys must be aware of potential conflicts of interest; for example, no employee of the U.S. Government may act as an attorney in prosecuting any claim against the United States or act as agent or attorney for anyone before an officer or agency of the U.S. Government. If you have questions concerning a particular matter, you should request advice from L/EMP/Ethics. The clinic's clients will be prescreened, and we will not be asked to give advice on issues where there is a government interest. Lawyers from a private firm will be present to handle cases that we cannot.

Thursday, December 18 -- Advocacy and Justice Clinic Training

The Department of Justice, with the assistance of other agencies, provides volunteer attorneys to the DC Bar's Advocacy & Justice Clinic (previously the Case Clinic) twice each year, in the winter and summer. The winter session is coming up in February. If you are interested in learning more about this program -- and potentially volunteering come February -- I invite you to sign up for a training session hosted by the DOJ Tax Division on Thursday, December 18, from noon to 1pm. There is no requirement to take a case if you attend this session -- so come learn more. If you are interested, please RSVP to Laura Klein, DOJ's pro bono coordinator, by December 17. Further information, including Laura's contact details, is included on the attached flyer.

D.C. BAR PRO BONO PROGRAM

ADVICE & REFERRAL CLINIC

ABOUT THE ADVICE & REFERRAL CLINIC

The Advice & Referral Clinic provides individuals who have legal problems governed by D.C. law an opportunity to discuss with volunteer attorneys certain kinds of matters, including bankruptcy/debt collection, consumer law, employment law, family law, health law, housing law (landlord & tenant, etc.), personal injury, probate (wills, medical directives, etc.), and tax law. All services are provided free of charge. About 70% of those individuals seeking free legal services require only brief advice and counsel. Issues are pre-screened on-site by paralegals to avoid conflicts of interest for government attorneys.

Through the D.C. Bar Pro Bono Program Advice & Referral Clinic, volunteer attorneys effectively assist these individuals by assessing their legal matters and providing general information and advice. The clinic is limited to giving brief general information and advice. If brief service is not enough to resolve the problem or if a different type of service is required, clinic volunteers refer individuals to or provide information about a legal or social service provider appropriately suited to handle the case. Local legal service providers also benefit from the Advice & Referral Clinic since it lessens the number of individuals walking into their organizations, allowing those practitioners to spend more of their resources representing clients (instead of providing general information and advice).

WHAT VOLUNTEERS NEED TO KNOW

The Advice & Referral Clinic is held on the second Saturday of every month from 10:00 AM until noon. The clinic is held at Bread for the City NW, 1525 Seventh Street NW,* and Bread for the City SE, located at 1640 Good Hope Road. Parking is available, and both locations are Metro accessible. Volunteers should arrive at the clinic by 9:30 AM for a brief orientation of clinic operations. Bagels and juice will be served. Dress is very casual.

Although it is impossible to predict, most individuals have pretty basic questions. Volunteers are not expected to be familiar with every area of the law. Mentors are available on-site and reference manuals are provided. A follow-up letter or phone call may be appropriate in certain circumstances if a volunteer wishes to check a point of law.

This is a great opportunity for you to engage in a very important, although very manageable pro bono project. The Pro Bono Program Advice & Referral Clinic is providing incredible services to hundreds of individuals each year in their own communities. Thank you for participating.

*Driving Directions: From the Roosevelt Bridge -- Follow the bridge to Constitution Avenue. Stay on Constitution Ave. until you come to 7th Street, NW. Turn left on 7th Street, NW. Go straight on 7th Street. Bread for the City is on the right between P and Q Streets. Directions from other locations can be found here:
http://www.breadforthecity.org/nw_location.html

Metro Directions: Take the Green Line to Shaw-Howard University Metro Station. Walk three blocks south to 1525 7th Street N.W. Total walking distance is 0.29 miles.

Please clear the following item related to Uzbekistan for publication. It has no bearing on U.S. foreign policy. Also, note that my involvement in the project did not begin until the end of 2008 and had no bearing on the grant process. Furthermore, I am receiving no money or other compensation for my efforts.

Background: I have been collaborating on a project with an academic colleague in Uzbekistan, Dr. Elyor Karimov, on a collection of Soviet era documents concerning policies on religion in Uzbekistan written during the 1920s-60s with an introduction and commentary. This is in fulfillment of his obligations to Democracy Commission Small Grants Program of the Embassy of the United States in Tashkent [Grant Number S-UZ800-06-GR057], provided in 2006-07.

Thanks very much.

Dear PA:

I request clearance of the attached introductory note to be published in International Legal Materials (ILM), a publication of the American Society of International Law. The note explains the Arctic policy NSPD/HSPD which OES coordinated along with the NSC. My office has the lead on Arctic policy in the building.

The note is consistent with Department policy, and has been cleared by the OES front office (DAS David Balton), OES/OPA director Maggie Hayes and L/OES Sam McDonald.

Please confirm that I've sent this to the right place for PA clearance. ILM's editors would like to have this no later than next week, and as I leave for TDY this weekend, I was hoping that PA might be able to clear by COB tomorrow.

Attached please find the CLEARED article for consideration of publication in the next edition of the book "Inside a U.S. Embassy". As you can see below it was cleared by everyone at the State Department who needed to clear it: the U.S. Ambassador to Panama Barbara Stephenson, the U.S. Ambassador to the U.S. Mission to International Organizations in Vienna Greg Schulte, the Public Affairs Front Office and the International Organizations Bureau.

The clearance process resulted in just one change compared with the version I sent to you: where it said that I did interviews with a long list of outlets I changed it to say I arranged them. (I did do the interviews but Ambassador Schulte asked that I put "arranged" and, since he did the vast majority of interviews, that's fine.)

Please let me know the next steps and thank you again for your consideration of my article!

Ambassador Stephenson,

I wrote the attached essay regarding my experience doing Public Diplomacy on the Iran nuclear issue (2005-2007) for consideration of publication in the next edition of the book "Inside a U.S. Embassy" published by AFSA. As you can see below, it's been cleared by the U.S. Ambassador to the U.S. Mission to International Organizations in Vienna Greg Schulte and the International Organizations Bureau.

Main State's Public Affairs Clearances Front Office staff Lisa Miller (copied) has asked me to send this to you, requesting your clearance.

Thanks very much for writing. I always like to hear from people who found Inside Embassy useful.

Your experience doing public affairs for UNVIE relating to Iran sounds right for the book. I like the excerpt you copy here and the whole report looks interesting. It sounds to me like it would make a more appropriate story/tale from the field than a day in the life entry.

Something tied to the "event" you highlight -- Iran unexpectedly rejected a comprehensive European proposal to resolve the nuclear issue.

The personal story, with a bit of substance, about you being a new FSO/PAO handling this issue, would be great. If it goes a little over 900 words, that's okay.

I have to note that the Advisory Committee will vote on all submissions so I can't promise it will be selected. But I imagine it would be so I'd encourage you to write it up for us.

Hello Shawn,

Attached please find my submission for consideration in the "Tales from the Field" section of the next "Inside a US Embassy" edition.

As you requested, I tied it to a key event - all the work and drama involved in mobilizing international support to report Iran's nuclear program to the UN Security Council in New York.

I tried to put the reader in the "driver's seat" as I tell the story in classic story-telling format - - with a set up, a conflict and a resolution.

Please let me know if there is anything you'd like to add, subtract or revise.

Thank you and the Advisory Committee for giving my submission your consideration!

Colleen,

It's been a long time since we've spoken. I'm currently TDY in the US and have been asked by an electronic publication in the UK (my most recent post) to write a piece for their next issue. I'm trying to sort out how to get this cleared. Is your's the office to do it?

I've attached it as a word document and incorporated it into this email.

Elizabeth Stewart from Embassy Magazine has asked me to write a short piece for their email edition to kick off a series of correspondence from diplomats who had formerly serving in London. Dear [redacted]

How are you doing in Washington? With or without beard?

As you will probably have seen, Anas is now the top man in Dublin and Guy is doing a great job as our new President of the Consular Corps.

In my last letter to our members, I mentioned that I wanted to start up a column for our ex London members - similar to the excellent "From Our Own Correspondent" on Radio Four. I was wondering whether you would do the honours? We only need about 300 words describing what it's like in Washington at the moment especially with the new administration - how the atmosphere changes, what the mood is like in Foggy Bottom - just general impressions to give our readers a flavour of things and how your life is going too. I am sure our colleagues in the consular corps would love to know.

Do let me know if this is something that appeals.

Hope to hear from you soon.

All the best

Also, since in your message you say this refers to your experiences in Havana and that your "dog was poisoned by agents of the Cuban regime, but managed to survive," PA suggest that you seek clearance from the U.S. Interest section in Havana as well. Or at least, you should give Havana a 'heads up' prior to publication. Thanks.

No. I talked to a bunch of people and they had no idea who I should talk to so I finally called ethics and they said to contact you guys.

I did talk to ethics about it and they are fine with it.

Dear Karlygash,

Hope all is well with you.

I am writing for your help clearing with PA the publication of the attached article by CG [REDACTED] in the Foreign Service Journal, with the usual disclaimer:

"The views expressed in this article are those of the author and do not necessarily represent the policies of the United States government."

[REDACTED] offers his perspective, based on years of service in conflict zones, of the concrete and constructive role that diplomats can play, with the proper authority and resources. The article does not comment directly on U.S. policy, but rather on the role that the foreign service can play in conflict zones, specifically related to development needs, including democratic institution-building. In his words:

B5

PAO Larry Schwartz has cleared on this request.

[redacted] is principal officer/Consul General at the U.S. Consulate General in Mumbai. I am also attaching his bio-notes.

B6

Many thanks, and if you can give us your best guess on clearance time for PA, CG [redacted] can relay to FS Journal editors for planning purposes.

Many thanks for your help. Liz

Greetings EUR-Press! I would like to request PA clearance for the U.S. publication of two of my articles related to U.S. foreign service history.

The first article is on U.S. diplomat Eugene Schuyler (see below) which has been published in Estonia and will soon be published here in Russia. It appears that the Foreign Service Journal may be interested in publishing it as well.

The second article is on Samuel Eliot Morison (see below) and is part of a larger series on the history of U.S.-Estonian relations originally published in Estonia. The Morison piece was spotted on Embassy Tallinn's website by the editor of Relevance: the Quarterly Journal of the Great War Society (see: http://www.the-great-war-society.org/PDFs/relevance_nov_08.pdf) and they have requested permission to republish the article in their journal.

Thanks for your help with this. All the best.

Before PA clears we need to know who else has cleared – there is no clearance page attached. Thanks.

As discussed, former Kunduz PR Ter [redacted] seeks clearance on the attached article, which he hopes to place in a publication such as Monocle or GQ. He has not yet approached any publications. Can you send this around to the appropriate offices?

Thanks,

Brian

Thanks, you too, Kelly.

BTW, small request. Please cc your clearance or issues to my home address at [REDACTED] I will be out on training all next week, but do want to wrap this up early in the week. (My editor will kill me if I don't.)

Thanks again!

Hey Kelly,

Clearance Monday is better than I could reasonably have hoped for. Thanks so much!

Thanks, [redacted]. I've passed this to the Office of the Historian for a quick glance. Is a clearance on Monday alright with you? Our Front Office is light on bodies this afternoon.

Thanks,

A quick follow-up: I have shared this paper with INR's Office of Analysis for Russia and Eurasia, as well as the Russian, Czech, and Slovak desks. It comes to you after them.

Dear Colleagues,

The enclosed article that I am preparing for publication is the write-up of some remarks I gave at a conference last October in Ottawa. The conference was addressing the 40th anniversary of the Prague Spring and the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia. The organizer, Professor Mark Stolarik from the University of Ottawa, would like to publish all of the papers and commentaries in an edited volume. The enclosed article is my contribution—the evaluation of a paper written by a Russian scholar. I'm including both my remarks for your clearance, and the Russian scholar's paper, for your added enjoyment. (My paper is the file entitled Prague Spring Conference Chapter[1].

Thank you,
